Mario Bellini Design Explained to Children

IL DESIGN SPIEGATO AI BAMBINI

A big name of Italian design explains to little readers his way of looking at nature and how to take ideas and projects from it.

How to draw a chair? And why to draw a chair? Where do ideas feeding a designer's mind come from? How to look at the world to make it better through everyday objects? Mario Bellini answers these questions in his first book for children: a travel into his world through photographs and drawings to catch the beauty and essential of those everyday objects we don't even stop to contemplate.

MARIO BELLINI

was born in Milan in 1935. After his bachelor in architecture, he started working as a designer in 1960s. Designer-in-chief for Olivetti, he designed the first personal computer in the world. He worked for Renault, Cassina, B&B, Flou, Vitra and Kartell and received eight times the Compasso d'Oro Prize.

Chiara Carminati Out of Focus

FUORI FUOCO

1914-1918. The story of a family told by a bright young girl. Talking about war from the viewpoint of one who doesn't make it

"When war broke out we were all pleased". Jolanda known as Jole was already working at the spinning-wheel at the age of thirteen during the summer of 1914. It didn't take her long to understand and suffer for the consequences of a conflict that sends the men away and leaves the women alone. Separated from her mother, traumatised by the bombings, she and her sister will roam the countryside looking for a grandmother that they had never met before. Through the voice of Jole – a penetrating, vivid first person narrator – their experiences are those of all the women who stay out of the line of fire, far from the front, blurred, almost invisible, while History proceeds, ruthlessly. Thirteen narrated images, like photos missing from a family album, punctuate a narration based on diaries, testimonies, reports and documents.

Chiara Carminati Travel, Verse

VIAGGIA VERSO

A collection of poems aimed to teenagers illustrated by Pia Valentinis.

To put together teens and poetry: this is the challenge Chiara Carminati confronts with Pia Valentinis, an illustrator she has already worked many times with. A special book is born out of it, addressing a selected audience but aiming to a larger one:

everyone has been a teen once, and still is, as we may have never got out of that building process of ourselves. To speak about fears and anxieties, desires and delusions, anger and absent-mindedness through poems and images means to create an unusual book, demanding to be read many times and to be let resonate in silence.

PIA VALENTINIS

born in Udine, lives now in Cagliari, Sardinia. She won many prizes for her work as an illustrator. Among her works, Raccontare gli alberi (Rizzoli), Ferriera (Cononino Press) and some biographies for RueBallu.

The origins of our world according to a great author.

Alberto Moravia wrote these stories in 1982, as a collection of fables about the creation of the world, a world inhabited by animals of all shapes and kinds. As it always happens, these fables use animal traits and adventures to investigate mankind, its vices and follies. But in the end it's hope that wins, as the reader looks at these characters with human understanding, that is indulgence over their and his own whims and weirdness.

John Steinbeck, Shout Letter to Thom about Love

LETTERA A THOM SULL'AMORE

A letter from father to son about love: how to tell it from an infatuation, how to face such a new and overwhelming emotion, how not to rush.

John Steinbeck enjoyed the duties of fatherhood and dispensed advice to his two sons when it was requested and sometimes when it was not. When in 1958

Steinbeck's son Thom was fourteen and attending boarding school in Connecticut he met a young girl named Susan with whom he thought he might be in love. His father, then living in New York with his second wife, Elaine, offered his views on the matter by writing him a touching and tender letter, here enriched by Shout's wonderful illustrations.

Beppe Tosco, Zosia Dzierżawska The Owl and the Girl

IL GUFO E LA BAMBINA

A group of animal friends and a girl looking for a way to stop time. An author with a vision and a clear mind and an illustrator who should follow his lead (theoretically). A tale of monsters and laughter. A sweet and ironical counterfable about friendship and its value.

This is the story of Stella, a girl worried about her friend Cocò the owl, who's getting older and older, and willing to find a cure to the flowing of time. But it's also the story of its author who is making it up phrase after phrase and tells Leandro, the illustrator, what to draw. Unfortunately Leandro has his own mind and his ideas are not the same as the author's. Page after page, Stella and her friends' story develops among squabbles and misunderstandings. A rebel fable against the mushy bleeding heart of the clichés in order to entertain its reader by mocking its own genre while at the same time shining with a sincere light, as it always happens to fables when they are true.

The English countryside, in the Thirties. For four boys it's the time of conversations with the animals, of scuffles in the village, of the tree-house with its hidden secrets, and of friendship with Ned, a war hero and one of the rare adults who know how to talk to children. One day a sheep falls into a mound of earth, revealing the tomb of an ancient warrior from which the protagonist steals a gold bracelet: the ghost seeks him out, leaving a trail of blood next to his room, taking on the form of a black mastiff.
